2014 America Recycles Day Spring Cleaning in the Winter

The Los Angeles Convention Center and Partners Proudly Support America Recycles Day 2014

It is our pleasure to announce that we will be participating in the nationally-recognized America Recycles Day in collaboration with AEG 1 Earth this year. Founded in 1997, America Recycles Day is a project of Keep America Beautiful, a national nonprofit that engages individuals to take greater responsibility for improving their community's environment, and is celebrated by thousands of communities each year.

LACC is a proud proponent of environmental sustainability and we're thrilled to join this important cause this year. This internal event will be collaboration between our staff, partners, and clients, including the L.A. Auto Show and GES.

We're also partnering with Habitat for Humanity as well as the Los Angeles Mission to collect & recycle donated items...so start cleaning out your closets today!

We will be collecting the following types of donations between 11/10-11/14:

1. used but clean clothes & shoes– donations will benefit Habitat for Humanity.

AND/OR

2. used but clean blankets, which will be donated to the Los Angeles Mission just in time for winter.

Drop-off: Donation bins will be set-up in West and South Hall.

We look forward to a productive and exciting event and thank all of our participants for their donations!
